LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

In its constant search to achieve the highest ethical and behavior standards, CAMPOSOL has approved this Code of Ethics and Conduct, which is the reference framework under which all workers and directors must conduct themselves at all times and circumstances, always ensuring the Company's welfare and good reputation.

As part of the development of our Code of Ethics and Conduct, the members of CAMPOSOL are committed to complying with the provisions of our "Policy on the Prevention of Fraud, Bribery and Corruption", the content of which is part of this Code and must be observed by all.

The Board of Directors of CSOL Holding Ltd strongly supports the compliance with this Code and Camposol's Corruption Prevention Model, and reaffirms its commitment to the ethical values and integrity that are part of the organizational culture of the Company.

The strengthening of measures to prevent acts contrary to the Code of Ethics and Conduct is of great importance to CAMPOSOL, being both a challenge and a great opportunity to contribute to the community as an example of integrity.

Compliance with this Code of Ethics and Conduct, the Policy on the Prevention of Fraud, Bribery and Corruption, the Internal Work Regulations, the Donations Policy, the Gifts and Hospitality Policy, the Processes, Policies and Procedures of CAMPOSOL, as well as compliance with laws and regulations, is mandatory for all. At CAMPOSOL, business is conducted with integrity, hence we convey the importance of this practice to our customers, suppliers and third parties with whom we have a relationship and from whom we expect the same standard of compliance.

Moreover, I would like to add that we have an independent Ethics Line, through which any worker, person or institution can report, anonymously, confidentially and without fear of reprisals, breaches of this Code of Ethics and Conduct.

This communication channel is available 24 hours a day to enable us to become apprised of situations that go against ethics, morality and the provisions of this Code, trusting that the Company will manage the information with the utmost confidentiality and professionalism.

I appreciate your attention and I am sure that, as always, we will count on your support and commitment for the proper fulfillment and enforcement of our Code of Ethics and Conduct.

Samuel Dyer Coriat
Chairman of the Board of Directors

At CAMPOSOL, business is conducted with integrity, hence we convey the importance of this practice to our customers, suppliers and third parties with whom we have a relationship and from whom we expect the same standard of compliance.

This Code of Ethics and Conduct expresses Camposol's commitment to act with honesty and integrity. This document is not new; it is the result of our updated Code of Ethics and Conduct (2015) and Policy on the Prevention of Fraud, Bribery and Corruption (2017), which we have also integrated into a single mandate, which today constitutes the cornerstone of our prevention model.

We are respectful of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and signatories to the Global Compact (see Human Rights Policy). The commitment to respect human rights has served as a reference framework for the development of this Code.

The above rules of conduct apply to everyone who works at Camposol, including our directors and subsidiaries globally. In addition, we are responsible for ensuring that third parties with the capacity to act on behalf of the company also comply with similar standards of behavior.

Our Code sets out minimum standards of conduct that will help us to be consistent with our corporate values. However, this document cannot anticipate every possible situation that may arise. Therefore, when faced with scenarios that are not contemplated, good faith and current legislation must prevail.

1. Introduction

WHO WE WORK WITH AT CAMPOSOL:

- We review from time to time, know, understand and comply with the standards set forth in this Code.
- We participate in training sessions on ethics and integrity and observe the complementary policies that apply to our specific tasks.
- We report potential breaches in a timely manner and collaborate with investigations when our assistance is required.

If you ever have any doubts, ask yourself the following questions on the relevant behavior or decision:

Will it affect my reputation or that of the Company?

Would I feel comfortable if this conduct became public?

Is it ethical?

Is it consistent with this Code and Camposol's values?

Is it legal?

If somebody comes to you with a question or concern:

- Listen carefully and pay attention to the worker
- Ask for additional information if you think it is necessary
- Do not feel compelled to give an immediate response

If you have any concerns or questions about how to handle a situation, ask your direct supervisor, the internal auditor or the company's compliance officer for support.

4. Guidelines for an upright conduct

4.1. Compliance with the applicable law

At Camposol, we respect the laws that apply to us in the various jurisdictions where we do business, including international standards such as the United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA).

As an organization we have a risk-based prevention model and a suitable supervision structure, which help us to have an adequate prevention and control environment.

Please note:

We are all responsible for complying with the law, both inside and outside our work environment. We must perform our work diligently and be apprised of and keep updated and disseminate the specific rules related to the performance of our duties.

4.2. Rejection of corruption

We strictly reject all types of corruption (such as bribery). No worker of Camposol or intermediary acting on behalf of Camposol is allowed to receive, offer, promise or give anything of value to third parties (either public or private) to obtain advantages in an illicit manner.

When we refer to “anything of value,” we consider not only cash, but also other types of benefits such as gifts, travel or other rewards that could be interpreted as a form of illegal influence. Therefore, we must follow the specific guidelines set forth below:

• GIFTS AND HOSPITALITY

At Camposol, we can give and/or receive gifts that are reasonable in terms of context and value. All aspects related to gifts or hospitality are subject to the Anti-Fraud, Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy and to the Gift and Hospitality Policy.

Gifts of a value of up to PEN 100 are considered reasonable. We do not give or receive cash gifts.

Violations of this chapter will be considered serious ethical misconduct and will result in the withdrawal of confidence from the offending worker.

Examples of reasonable gifts and hospitality include::

Pens with advertising logos, T-shirts, polo shirts or caps with commercial logos, gift baskets given out at specific corporate events, trophies and statuettes, and other similar items.

Items not considered reasonable gifts:

Jewelry, cash, electronic and technological devices, high-end liquor, meals exceeding the established limits, spa vouchers, other similar items.

Some conducts prohibited at Camposol:

- Receive/deliver gifts to workers of other companies intended to give/obtain a preferential treatment in a certain purchase/sale process, constitutes corruption among private parties.
- Delivering gifts to public officials to expedite a license, obtain positive oversight results, facilitate import or export processes, among other benefits, is a disguised form of bribery. This conduct is prohibited at Camposol.
- Deliver gifts to spouses or relatives of public officials; deliver/receive gifts at home; deliver/receive gifts during a commercial bidding proceeding or transaction that may result in a conflict of interest.

Please note:

When offered a gift or hospitality that violates the above rules, we must politely refuse it and explain Camposol's internal policies.

• TRAVELS, ACCOMMODATION AND PER DIEMS

We may fund per diems, accommodation and food expenses of third parties (suppliers, customers, business partners or others) only when there is a business justification (e.g., visits to customers) and these expenses are of reasonable value, in accordance with the Travel and Per Diem Policy and the Gift and Hospitality Policy. The same principles will apply on a reciprocal basis, when a third party invites Camposol's workers to an event/trip. In both cases, the decision must be authorized in writing by the area manager and the General Manager.

Additionally, when a public official is involved, we must request prior authorization from Camposol's compliance officer, who will ensure that no conflict of interest exists or that the decision is not misinterpreted (See Gifts and Hospitality Policy).

All travel invitations received by workers from third parties related to the Company must be reported to Camposol's Compliance Officer for supervision purposes.

Violations of this chapter will be considered serious ethical misconduct and will result in the withdrawal of confidence from the offending worker.

Please note:

Some prohibited situations are the financing of travels or per diems of family or friends of the Third Party guest, the delivery of cash, the use of unnecessary stopovers and the extension of days at the destination. We must ensure that travel costs are reasonable, avoiding unnecessary expenses or luxuries.

• PHILANTHROPIC DONATIONS

As part of our sustainability strategy, at Camposol we carry out initiatives for social development and make donations that help to improve the quality of life of the communities surrounding our operations. Our donations are not intended to exert undue influence or conceal other services provided; on the contrary, we seek to contribute to the community.

All of our donations are made in good faith, comply with the applicable laws and internal policies, have been evaluated and approved by the appropriate authorities (See Donations Policy) and are properly recorded in the company's accounting records.

Please note:

Risk situations such as giving cash donations, making donations without knowing the final beneficiary of the donation, using personal bank accounts, using fixed funds or money advances to be settled to make donations are not allowed.

• FINANCING OF POLITICAL PARTIES

At Camposol, the financing of political parties, campaigns or candidates is prohibited.

Please note:

If we want to make contributions or actively participate in any political party or position, we must report this intention to the company's compliance officer.

• FACILITATION PAYMENTS

Facilitation payments or small disbursements given to public officials to expedite procedures illegally, such as obtaining permits, customs services and visa approval, are not allowed at Camposol.

Please note:

Some alerts that may be concealing facilitation payments include circumstances that require cash payments, unusual transactions or payments without formal support.

• MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS

The past conduct of the companies or owners of assets that we acquire could expose us to reputational, legal and financial risks. For this reason, at Camposol we purchase and sell companies or assets only after evaluating the integrity of the third parties involved and determining that the risk level is non-existent or acceptable to Camposol (See Integrity Due Diligence with Third Parties Policy).

Please note:

Performing a Due Diligence assessment before buying or selling companies is not sufficient. Once the transaction is completed, we are responsible for implementing prevention and control standards similar to those of Camposol in the new organization. To this end, it is advisable to make integration, training and monitoring plans in ethics matters.

• THIRD PARTY MANAGEMENT

Under anti-corruption laws, a company is liable not only for its own actions, but also for the acts committed by third parties on its behalf. It is therefore important that our preventive policies and controls are integrated into our business processes and value chain.

Based on a risk approach, at Camposol we apply processes of Integrity Due Diligence with third parties as a prerequisite for initiating business relationships with third parties. In addition, we regulate our transactions with third parties through written contracts or purchase orders, which contain anti-corruption clauses contemplating the right to perform preventive audits.

Please note:

Not every business relationship entails the same risk. We must evaluate criteria such as the degree of interaction with public officials, the capacity to act on behalf of Camposol, the geographical area, the insight of specific industries and the average value of contracts.

Under anti-corruption laws, a company is liable not only for its own actions, but also for the acts committed by third parties on its behalf. It is therefore important that our preventive policies and controls are integrated into our business processes and value chain.

4.3. Prevention of conflicts of interest

A conflict of interest arises when our personal or family activities and relationships interfere or may interfere with our ability to act in the company's best interests.

At Camposol, we strive to make all our business decisions objective and transparent. Therefore, if we identify any possible conflict of interest, we must inform our direct supervisor, the Human Capital Management or the Compliance Officer of the company.

Some frequent situations of conflict of interest include:

- If you have decision-making power or influence over a contract, you may not hire companies that you own, or in which you hold a direct or indirect interest.
- Acting as an intermediary for third parties (relatives, for example) to win contracts with Camposol, obtaining an undue benefit.
- Providing services inside and outside working hours to the company's competitors.
- Receiving or giving non-institutional gifts to suppliers, customers or competitors.
- Representing Camposol in transactions (buy/sell/hiring) where we have family or other interests.
- Investing in businesses, loans or shares of competitors, customers or suppliers of Camposol.

Recommendations

- The Code cannot cover all possible conflicts of interest that might occur in reality; therefore, use your conscience and common sense. You are required to comply with the Conflict of Interest Policy.
- Act with special caution if you are responsible for selecting or negotiating with a supplier on the Company's behalf. Your personal interests and relationships must not interfere or appear to interfere with your ability to make decisions in the Company's best interests.

4.4. Commitment to our workers

• HUMAN RIGHTS

We respect the human rights recognized in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the Global Compact and other national and international standards (see Human Rights Policy). Camposol carries out evaluations from time to time to ascertain respect for human rights in the company.

We prohibit child labor and reject any type of forced labor or undignified conditions.

We strongly reject all forms of violence or harassment, including sexual, psychological, verbal or physical harassment. The use of physical or psychological punishment, confinement, threats of violence or any other form of abuse as a method of discipline and control is not permitted.

We respect our workers' right to freedom of association or non-association and to collective bargaining.

We do not outsource suppliers or production facilities where there is any kind of exploitation or work under conditions that violate human rights.

• NON-DISCRIMINATION AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

We strive to ensure that no discrimination is present in Camposol's processes of selection, training, development, evaluation and retention of personnel based on cultural diversity, gender, sexual orientation, race, creed, religion, physical ability or social condition. Every opportunity at Camposol is based on our workers' talent and merit in line with our values and behaviors.

We provide our workers with competitive salaries and benefits, based on meritocracy and/or performance evaluation, in compliance with applicable laws, collective agreements and international treaties.

We are committed to communicating openly and honestly. We consult among us and value any divergent perspectives, as well as any opinions challenging our own point of view.

• INCLUSION AND DIVERSITY

At Camposol, we strive to create an inclusive environment, respecting and supporting cultural diversity and differences relative to gender, sexual orientation, race, creed, religion, physical ability or social condition of our workers. We seek to create an organization where everyone feels integrated, respected and valued, and where everyone has genuinely the same opportunities for development.

We treat all people with respect, dignity, justice and courtesy, inside and outside the organization, seeking behaviors that are diversity-friendly and welcoming.

Please note:

If you have suffered or witnessed harassment or discrimination by any Camposol worker, supplier or related company, do not be afraid and report the fact immediately to our ethics line.

4.5. Health and safety

At Camposol, we value people's lives to the fullest. Therefore, we maintain a safe and healthy work environment for our workers, suppliers, visitors and customers.

We foster a culture of occupational safety and health, based on the prevention and management of risks (See Occupational Safety and Health Policy and Integrated Management System Policy). To this end, not only do we comply with the legislation of the place where we operate and Camposol's applicable internal policies, but we also adopt the highest international standards for the prevention of occupational accidents, occupational diseases and violent situations.

We permanently train our workers and share with our suppliers the necessary health and safety measures and standards to work with us.

Please note:

Any person under the influence of alcohol or drugs is not allowed into our premises. The use of alcohol or drugs inside the company is prohibited.

4.6. Commitment to society

We act in a socially responsible manner, abiding by the laws, customs and traditions of the communities where we operate, while fostering open, sincere, constructive and mutually beneficial relationships.

We recognize that our responsibility to society goes beyond generating economic value. Therefore, we implement initiatives relating to social development and make charitable donations to improve the capabilities and quality of life of people (See Community Relations Policy).

4.7. Commitment to the environment

We understand the importance of the environment in favor of current and future generations and our business' sustainability. Therefore, we promote a culture of protection of our environment and invest in innovation and technology promoting the efficient use of resources, taking care of water and energy as a priority. (See Environmental Policy and Integrated Management System Policy).

As part of our management systems, we measure, evaluate and report in a transparent manner our environmental performance, thus enabling us to identify risks, define gaps and improvement targets, and be accountable to our investors and society.

Please note:

Reporting false information about our environmental or social performance will be considered a violation of this Code.

4.8. Business practices

We treat our customers, suppliers and competitors with respect and dignity. We seek to build long-term relationships based on trust. Therefore, it is very important that we honor our promises, agreements and business commitments.

We offer high quality products that exceed our clients' expectations, meet national and international food safety and security standards and guarantee responsible and traceable production processes.

We recognize the importance of our suppliers in achieving our goals. We are transparent, fair and careful in our negotiation, selection and exchange processes. In addition, we carry out training and dissemination efforts so that they are informed about the terms and conditions of this Code (See Purchase Policy).

We compete vigorously and honestly, respecting the laws and principles of free competition. Our commercial policy and prices are established independently and we never enter into illegal agreements with third parties, formally or informally, directly or indirectly, that may restrict, prevent or distort free competition.

The following actions are prohibited:

- Exchanging confidential information about Camposol with friends or acquaintances who work in competing companies, suppliers or customers.
- Agreeing on market share quotas or on prices.
- Deliver quotations from suppliers to their competitors or request quotations from our competitors.

4.9. Proper use of company assets and resources

We use the company's assets and resources only for the purposes entrusted to us, taking care of their proper use and maintenance, while observing internal policies. We must never use them for illegal activities, political purposes or acts that affect the dignity of people.

The subtraction of resources (tangible or intangible) from Camposol will result in the application of disciplinary measures, in accordance with the Internal Work Regulations and the commencement of the appropriate civil and criminal liability actions.

The following actions are prohibited:

- Participating in personal activities during working hours without express authorization from your direct supervisor.
- Using Camposol's IT equipment and resources (such as Internet, e-mail, laptops, cell phones, etc.) for external business and illegal or unethical activities, such as gambling, pornography or similar activities.

4.10. Responsible handling of information

We are honest, truthful and well-timed with the information that we publish, not only in our financial reports, but also in social, environmental, safety or other reports that we are required to produce.

• PROPER ACCOUNTING RECORDS

We develop, document and maintain within the statutory term and continually improve our internal financial controls to ensure that all of our transactions are accurately and reasonably recorded in the company's books of account and accounting records.

We are convinced that impunity is a threat to our culture of integrity. Therefore, any potential violation of the Code will be investigated and, if responsibility is found, it will be sanctioned in an exemplary manner, by applying measures such as the worker's dismissal and the filing of the appropriate civil and/or criminal actions.

The Camposol Group's Board of Directors is responsible for approving and overseeing compliance with this Code of Ethics and Conduct.

Camposol's Compliance Officer is in charge of implementing, updating, disseminating and training Camposol's workers on the application of the company's Code of Conduct.
